Refer to NHS

2004 = 240l/week, 2012 = 430l/week (3 x 240 bins, plus box + food caddy). Before change, 60% of residual bin was recyclable (incl. batteries, WEEE, textiles and shoes, as well as kerbside services). Changed to 50% one year after service change. Used this angle to promote a more sustainable waste collection system, challenging residents' attitude to waste as a resource		50% of residual bin could have been recycled. Business case of 6% recycling increase, 3-weekly trial saw 0.3% increase, and 4-weekly trial saw 1.6% increase. No increase in contamination during trial but already high - paper & cardboard (3%) and organics waste streams (7%). 10% increase in cans & plastics during trials. Increase in capture rates but not prediction of 80% total capture rate - increases of 4% food and 10% cans and plastics on 4-weekly, 8% increase in paper & cardboard in both trials. Reverted to	Larger recycling bin FOC.
