GPC/09/20 Electoral Review of Central Bedfordshire; Council Size for the Authority

The General Purposes Committee noted that its Electoral Arrangements Review Working Group had met on three occasions to consider proposals for the Council size for Central Bedfordshire. The Working Group's conclusions were drawn together in a draft submission to the Boundary Committee for England which was now before the Committee. Members noted that the next step was to consider the draft submission and refer it together with recommendations from the Committee to Council.

In considering the submission, members of the Working Group who were present at the meeting thanked the officers, in particular Brian Dunleavy, Electoral Services Project Officer, for the invaluable support that they had provided to the Working Group.

Members noted that the draft submission was a comprehensive document setting out the methodology and the background information which had led to the conclusion drawn by the Working Party on the optimum size of the Council.

In discussing the submission, Members asked for some minor drafting changes, including changing the term "frontline councillor" to "ward councillor". A Member queried what was meant by the reference to "discounting members for the purpose of seat allocation" in paragraph 4.3 and suggested that this wording perhaps needed to be clarified. Some additional wording was also suggested to be added after the final bullet point on page 5 of the submission to reflect the need to ensure that sufficient capacity is available to respond to the emerging localism agenda.

Members discussed the recommendations before them. It was noted that the former County and District Councils had between them comprised a total of 136 councillors' places and that the recommendation for 66 members represented a considerable reduction on this. Reference was also made to the developing role of councillors as community champions and to the expectation that as housing developments were completed, there would be increasing numbers of people living locally drawing upon the support of councillors.

Members considered that the submission, as amended, provided a robust case for the recommendation to the Boundary Committee that there should be 66 elected councillors for Central Bedfordshire.

RESOLVED:-

1. that the conclusions of the Electoral Arrangements Review Working Group in relation to the Council size for Central Bedfordshire, be endorsed.
2. that the draft submission to the Boundary Committee for England on Council Size for Central Bedfordshire be revised in accordance with the amendments referred to in the preamble above.

RECOMMENDED:

1. that the recommendation that there should be 66 elected Councillors for Central Bedfordshire, be endorsed; and
2. that the submission to the Boundary Committee for England on Council Size for Central Bedfordshire, be approved.

(Note: a copy of the submission, which has been revised to take account of the amendments referred to in resolution 2 above, is attached.)

1. INTRODUCTION

Vision

- 1.1 The Council's vision is to improve the quality of life of all in Central Bedfordshire, and enhance the unique character of our communities and our environment.
- 1.2 The vision for Central Bedfordshire Council was created by councillors, staff, partners and stakeholders and was arrived at after considering the geography, demography and future growth of the area and views of the residents.
- 1.3 The Council's developing Community Engagement Strategy, builds on the commitments made in the bid for unitary status to place communities at the forefront of the Council's work – to ensure the Council and its key partners listen to, discuss and act on issues that are of utmost importance to the people in Central Bedfordshire. The aim is to build on the current engagement with the community, putting councillors at the heart of community and to move the Council towards higher levels of community empowerment.
- 1.4 Councillors will be placed at the heart of this engagement strategy to ensure the Council maximises opportunities to engage with and positively respond to all of Central Bedfordshire's communities. This will mean that councillors are:
 - fully supported to communicate and engage with their communities in a variety of ways;
 - supported to efficiently resolve community-based issues in their wards;
 - kept informed of key Council activities in their wards;
 - able to contribute to localised spending decisions; and
 - supported in attending key community events in their wards.

Area

- 1.5 Central Bedfordshire is the gateway to the Midlands and East Anglia and is served by the M1, A1, A5 and A6 roads together with three different rail networks traversing the district giving rise to the influx of commuters specifically around the towns that support the rail links.
- 1.6 The Central Bedfordshire area currently has a population of around 250,000 and it is planned to grow rapidly, to an estimated population of over 300,000 by 2021, through the development of some 50,000 new homes. Moreover, the population is predicted to continue to grow quickly between 2022 and 2031 through further in-migration.

- 1.7 Central Bedfordshire covers an area of some 716 square kilometres and has a diverse mix of urban and rural communities. Dunstable and Leighton Buzzard, as market towns, represent the largest urban areas and collectively account for some 29% of the population. The other 6 towns are geographically spread across the area of the authority and collectively they account for a further 31% of the population. The remaining 40% of the population extend across some substantially sized villages to the very small hamlets each with its own individual character
- 1.8 This profile places considerable difficulties on the councillors, in the way that they represent and serve their respective communities. Specifically when taking into account the diversity of the socio economic groups across the Authority.
- 1.9 Central Bedfordshire is fully parished with 71 Town and Parish Councils.

Council

- 1.10 Central Bedfordshire is a Unitary Council and was formed in April 2009 based on the combined area of the former Mid and South Bedfordshire districts.
- 1.11 Elections held in June 2009 returned a Council comprising 54 Conservative councillors, 11 Liberal Democrat councillors and 1 independent councillor. The councillors have been appointed for a two year term of office expiring in May 2011.
- 1.12 The Council employs 2560 staff plus a further 10,824 in education services. The gross budget amounts to £497.05m with a net controllable budget of £170.6m.

Our Case

- 1.13 Our proposals are made against a background of national and local policy drivers and of seeking to deliver the commitments set out in the submission to the Secretary of State to create an excellent authority, providing strong, effective and accountable leadership for the communities of Central Bedfordshire.
- 1.14 This submission presents the case for the size of Central Bedfordshire Council. The proposal is that the Council has 66 elected Members thus affording the new unitary council with the opportunity to continue to develop and sustain a better quality of life for the people living in our area.

2. OUR APPROACH TO DETERMINING COUNCIL SIZE

- 2.1 We have been mindful of the Boundary Committee's guidance on factors to consider when making a proposal on Council size including:-
- The governance model in operation in the Council, working practices and the impact on the workload of councillors;
 - The existence of town and parish councils in the area;
 - The enhanced representational role of the councillor driven by the requirements in the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007, including the new "Councillor Call for Action", which has attracted cross party support; and
 - The need for electoral equality.
- 2.2 Against this background we have reviewed the various roles which councillors in Central Bedfordshire perform and the resultant workloads and have analysed this information to guide our recommendation on Council size.
- 2.3 In addition to the factors listed by the Boundary Committee, regard has been given to the following considerations:
- The significant demands placed on a councillor of a single tier council, particularly in their representational role;
 - The overall reduction in elected representation in Central Bedfordshire following the abolition of the County and District Councils;
 - The many demands placed upon councillors over and above committee meeting attendance and casework, most notably the need to work effectively with partner organisations such as the police and fire authorities, health authorities and the voluntary sector;
 - The requirement to ensure that the authority is able to be effectively represented on various local, regional and national bodies including the East of England Regional Assembly and the County Councils' Network; and
 - The need to ensure sufficient capacity to respond to the many new Government initiatives which will impact upon the workload of councillors, including:-

- the duty to promote democracy, the duty to involve, petitions and engaging with and empowering citizens; and
 - the emerging localism agenda which will lead to greater influence by the public sector and will impact upon Central Bedfordshire's community leadership role.
- 2.4 To ensure that we can deliver our vision, the Council requires strong leadership and full participation politically. This submission sets out our case for 66 members in Central Bedfordshire. This will ensure that all roles at the political level can be carried out effectively, that members have the capacity fully to undertake their role as community leaders and will enable us to achieve our commitment to becoming an excellent authority. The rationale and evidence leading to our conclusion is set out below.

3. THE CASE

- 3.1 The combined area of the Mid and South Beds authorities had 103 district councillors and 33 county councillors (a total of 136 councillors). The bid for unitary status for Central Bedfordshire significantly reduced that number to 66 members to give residents clearer local representation. The figure was derived from the existing county divisions resulting in 28 wards, 5 of which return 4 councillors with the remainder returning 2 councillors each. A comparison was made with South Gloucestershire unitary council, which was deemed to have a similar settlement pattern and where a council size of 70 members gives an almost exactly similar elector ratio (2900:1). Whilst an outline governance structure was set out in the bid to the Secretary of State, the Shadow Council spent some 8 months reviewing and developing the proposed structure and the revised political management structure was approved by the Shadow Council in February 2009.
- 3.2 The opportunity has been presented by the electoral review to test the extent to which 66 is the appropriate number of councillors for Central Bedfordshire and its new governance structure.
- 3.3 In determining the number of councillors required to meet the delivery of our vision we have ensured that the collective decision making process and the scrutiny workload are appropriately shared. Moreover, that the number of constituents that each member represents does not make their case work unrealistic or unmanageable.

Political Management

Council

- 3.4 Full Council meets at least 6 times a year and is responsible for providing the overall strategic direction for the Council principally through the adoption of the budget and the policy framework.

The Executive

3.5 In accordance with the Local Government Act 2000 the Council has adopted “executive arrangements”.

3.6 The Council has adopted the ‘Strong Leader’ Executive model. The Leader is responsible for appointing members to the Executive, for allocating portfolio responsibilities and for approving Executive delegations. The Leader has been appointed for a two year term of office until the next election of councillors in 2011.

3.7 The Executive must be made up of the Leader and at least two but no more than nine councillors including the Deputy Leader appointed by the Leader. Currently the Executive consists of 10 members and makes decisions which are in line with the Council’s budget and policy framework. The membership of the Executive and their respective portfolios are shown below:

- Leader of the Council and Chairman of the Executive
- Deputy Leader of the Council, Vice Chairman of the Executive and Portfolio holder for Business Transformation
- Portfolio holder for Corporate Resources
- Portfolio holder for Economic Growth and Regeneration
- Portfolio holder for Safer and Stronger Communities
- Portfolio holder for Sustainable Development
- Portfolio holder for Children’s Services
- Portfolio holder for Culture and Skills
- Portfolio holder for Social Care and Health
- Portfolio holder for Housing

3.8 The Executive meets formally every month and is responsible for carrying out all of the Authority’s functions which are not the responsibility of any other part of the Authority, either by law (The Local Authorities (Functions and Responsibilities (England) Regulations 2000) or by the Council’s Constitution.

3.9 The Executive also meets informally every month with officers of the Council (primarily the Corporate Management Team). These meetings are held in advance of the Executive and in conjunction with the ‘Chairman’s briefing’ thus enabling the Executive to be briefed on forthcoming business.

3.10 Members of the Executive are expected to attend the relevant Overview and Scrutiny Committee and indeed every Task and Finish Group consistent with their portfolio responsibilities. Unless specifically ‘called’ to give evidence an Executive member’s presence is to provide specialist information and advice to the committee or feedback on performance issues. Additionally, an Executive member will also contribute to the in depth analysis of any policy issues within their own areas of responsibility.

- 3.11 In order to provide further capacity to the Executive, there are four assistants to portfolio holders whose roles are to provide direct support to the appropriate portfolio holder (s) as follows:-
- Assistant to Corporate Resources Portfolio holder
 - Assistant to Safer and Stronger Communities Portfolio holder
 - Assistant to the Children's Services and Culture and Skills Portfolio holders
 - Assistant to the Social Care, Health and Housing Portfolio holders
- 3.12 Whilst the four assistants can represent the Executive member in consultation with officers and other members, they cannot substitute in any decision making capacity. The system is also seen as a mechanism for increasing the number of members with experience of Executive procedures and functions and contributing to the development of individual members. The Council's Constitution precludes assistants to the portfolio holders from sitting on the corresponding overview and scrutiny committee.
- 3.13 In addition to the many formal meetings attended by Executive members, their role demands regular meetings with those Chief and Senior officers who support their portfolio area. Executive members, review performance, develop proposals and receive briefings to enable them effectively to meet their responsibilities. Executive members are also frequently required to meet with representatives of partner organisations and other authorities to discuss issues relevant to their portfolio area. This informal member-level activity is difficult to quantify but nonetheless represents an essential role in the administration of the Council and impacts on the office holders and overall capacity of the Council at political level.

Overview and Scrutiny

- 3.14 The Council has appointed five overview and scrutiny committees aligned to the Council's organisational structure, whose role is to support the work of the Executive and the Council as a whole. However, the role of the overview and scrutiny committees is not limited to 'holding the Executive to account' but also has a strong focus on policy development (a particularly demanding role as the new unitary authority has to determine all its policies and strategies), extending to carrying out work in a number of areas, including:

- Assisting the Council and the Executive in the development of the budget and policy framework through in-depth analysis of policy issues and proposed projects.
- Conducting research, community and other consultation in the analysis of policy issues or proposed projects and other options
- The implementation of mechanisms to encourage and enhance community participation in the development of policy or project options.

- Liaison with other external organisations operating in the area, to ensure that the interests of the community are enhanced by collaborative working.

3.15 The overview and scrutiny committees and their principal responsibilities are:

- Business Transformation (including communications, customer services, community engagements and corporate planning)
- Children, Families and Learning (including leisure, culture, libraries and adult and community learning)
- Corporate Resources (including financial services, procurement, human resources and organisational development, ICT, legal and democratic services and property and asset management)
- Social Care, Health and Housing (including landlord services, homelessness and private sector housing)
- Sustainable Communities (including planning, transportation, economic growth, highways and parking, waste and recycling and community safety)

3.16 Whilst acknowledging that the five themed standing committees play the lead role in policy development and review, they are supported by time-limited task and finish groups with defined scopes and remit. These task and finish groups are playing a critical role in the in-depth examination and development of policies and strategies in the new unitary authority. Task and finish groups have already been established to review the following:-

- Community Engagement
- Customer Services
- Business Transformation
- Procurement Strategy
- Long term accommodation strategy
- Cultural Strategy

3.17 Additionally a standing task group has been set up to review the Local Development Framework.

3.18 Members of task and finish groups are selected according to their interest and expertise in the topic under review.

3.19 The Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of the overview and scrutiny committees meet informally as the “Overview and Scrutiny Management Panel” to co-ordinate the work of the five overview and scrutiny committees, particularly where topics for scrutiny or review cut across the terms of reference of two or more committees. These meetings are held at least quarterly but are currently held on a more frequent basis as the new overview and scrutiny arrangements bed in.

Development Management

- 3.20 The Development Management Committee currently meets twice monthly to determine the planning applications. Additionally, site visits are held every fortnight in support of the more complicated and contentious applications. Traditionally, meetings can be quite lengthy (an average length of 3 hours per meeting in the period April to July 2009) due to the volume of applications and the Council's extensive scheme for public participation. Collectively therefore, Members of the committee are likely to spend a considerable amount of time dealing with planning issues and are therefore unlikely to be able to take up positions on more than one other committee within the Council.

Licensing and Regulation

- 3.21 In accordance with its statutory obligations the Council has appointed a Licensing Committee and a Regulation Committee. Whilst the membership of both committees is the same, they have distinct functions. The Licensing Committee is responsible for all aspects under the Licensing Act 2003 and the Gambling Act 2005 whereas the Regulation Committee deals with other licensing functions including hackney carriage, private hire vehicles and street trading. There is also a Licensing Sub Committee to deal with liquor licensing and gambling applications, which is held as and when necessary. As meetings are held frequently, all members of the parent Licensing Committee are appointed as substitutes on the sub committee and therefore are likely to be required to participate in a substantial number of the hearings conducted by the sub committee.

Audit

- 3.22 The Audit Committee advises the Council and the Executive on audit and governance issues. It provides an independent assurance on the adequacy of the Council's risk management framework and associated control environment, together with a scrutiny of the Authority's financial and non-financial performance to the extent that it affects the Council's exposure to risk.

Standards

- 3.23 The Standards Committee has, in addition to its responsibility for overseeing standards of conduct amongst members of Central Bedfordshire Council (including the assessment, review and investigation of complaints), responsibility for the conduct of co-opted members and the 703 members of the 71 town and parish councils within Central Bedfordshire. The committee has three sub-committees which deal with; the initial assessment of any complaint made; the review of decisions; and the conduct of hearings.

- 3.24 Experience of the local assessment regime at Central Bedfordshire since April 2009 has demonstrated that this large number of town and parish councillors has the potential to result in a heavy workload for the Monitoring Officer and the various standards sub-committees. Some 7 cases have already been dealt with or are in the “pipeline” for review by the sub committees. Research by the Standards Board for England suggests that, on average, most councils will process 8 standards cases in a 12 month period. The current workload is reflective of the national trend that complaints relate to members of town and parish councils to a greater extent than to members of principal authorities. As a new authority, however this current level of complaints may not be indicative of future workload. The Monitoring Officer and the Independent Chairman of the Standards Committee have taken a proactive approach to promoting good ethical governance across Central Bedfordshire and have held a number of awareness events and workshops throughout the area over the first few months of the life of the new Council. These events have received excellent levels of attendance and participation from our town and parish colleagues.

Other Committees

- 3.25 The Council has appointed a number of other committees to assist with the discharge of its functions. The cycles of the meetings vary but generally they are programmed to meet between 4 and 6 times per year. Additionally, it is anticipated that a number of committees may meet more frequently than this, or indeed find it necessary to set up working groups to deal with specific projects. The committees and their primary function are:

- General Purposes Committee (To determine strategic employee policies and terms and conditions of employment. To carry out all functions relating to elections, electoral registration and governance arrangements).
- Appointments Sub Committee (To appoint or recommend the appointment of chief officers).
- Appeals Committee (To consider representations or appeals against decisions made on or behalf of the Council including staffing appeals and grievances).
- Wixams Joint Development Control Committee (To exercise the development control powers of Central Bedfordshire and Bedford Borough Councils in relation to The Wixams new settlement).
- Luton and South Bedfordshire Joint Committee (To exercise the functions of Central Bedfordshire and Luton Borough Councils in respect of the Luton and South Bedfordshire Growth Area).

- Joint Consultative & Negotiating for Primary and Secondary Education Committee (A forum for negotiation on conditions of service for teachers and staff)
- Employee Partnership Committee (To promote effective joint working between the Council and its recognised trade unions).
- Constitution Advisory Group (To monitor and review the operation of the Council's Constitution and make recommendations to the Council in respect of any proposed amendments).
- Fostering Panel (For the approval of prospective fosters carers).
- Joint Adoption Panel (Making adoption plans for children).
- Fostering Permanence Panel (To consider permanence for foster carers)
- Corporate Parenting Panel (To ensure that the Council discharges its role as corporate parent of looked after children).
- Standing Advisory Council for Religious Education (SACRE) (To ensure that Religious Education is taught in all schools).
- Houghton Regis Town Centre Management Committee (To set the broad direction of the town centre initiative).
- Dunstable Town Centre Management Committee (To serve as a partnership forum for all those involved in town centre initiatives).
- Leighton Linlade Town Centre Management Committee (To serve as a partnership forum for all those involved in town centre initiatives).

Totals		194	Excluding membership of the Council

- 4.2 Excluding the 10 Executive seats and the 11 committee memberships that are required to be held by members of the Executive, there are 173 committee seats remaining.
- 4.3 It is considered that members of the Executive have the equivalent of a full-time job, for that reason, it is not considered to be reasonable to add to the already heavy workload of these members by allocating additional committee positions. This means that 10 members are discounted for the purpose of allocation of the remaining seats referred to paragraph 4.2. The “Portfolio Holder” Role Profile is shown at Appendix A.
- 4.4 The Chairman of Council fulfils an extremely important role on civic, ceremonial and representational functions. The Chairman promotes the Council in the community, to the public, businesses and voluntary bodies and encourages civic awareness and pride. This role is particularly relevant for a new authority such as Central Bedfordshire as it begins to build its reputation in the community. The Council therefore takes the view that the extent of the Chairman’s duties means that he/she could not commit to any other committee role. This increases the number of members discounted for purposes of seat allocation to 11. The Role Profile for the “Chairman of the Council” is shown at Appendix B.
- 4.5 As indicated in paragraph 3.20, given the frequency of meetings and workload associated with the Development Management Committee, it is considered that members of that committee cannot reasonably be expected to assume more than one additional committee per member. This increases the number of members discounted for the purpose of seat allocation to 29.
- 4.6 Assuming that each member of the Development Control Committee is allocated 2 committee seats (i.e.: seat on Development Management Committee plus one other committee place), this would reduce the number of non-executive seats to be filled to 137 (i.e.: 18 members x 2 committee seats = 36. 173 – 36 = 137)
- 4.7 The National Census of Local Authority Councillors 2008 indicates that across all authorities, members hold on average 3.7 committee or sub-committee seats. Using this standard, each member sitting on an average of 3.7 committees indicates that 37 councillors would be required to fill the remaining non-executive seats.

- 4.8 The principles above indicated that 29 Members (10 Executive members, the Chairman of the Council and the 18 members of Development Management Committee) should not be expected to assume the average number of committees, given their existing workloads and responsibilities. Adding back the 37 members referred to above suggests that a Council of 66 members would be an appropriate for Central Bedfordshire.
- 4.9 For ease of reference the details set out in paragraphs 4.2 to 4.8 are set out in tabular form below:-

5. GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE

6. MEMBER ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

6.1 The role of the Unitary Councillor is both extensive and varied and it is recognised that members may need to move away from the detail that they would have experienced from within a district authority and take a more strategic approach in an authority responsible for combined services, whilst at the same time not losing sight of their role as advocates for the community and its residents.

Community Role

6.2 The Council's Constitution clearly defines the expectations of members in their community engagement role. Specifically by:

- Representing the communities of their ward, bringing their views into the Council's decision-making process and representing the Council to those communities – i.e. to become an advocate of and for, their communities.
- Responding to constituents' enquiries and representations fairly and impartially, dealing with individual casework and otherwise effectively representing the interests of their ward and of individual constituents.
- Balancing the different interests identified within the ward, representing the ward as a whole and acting as a point of mediation between the Council and the communities of their ward.

Corporate Role

6.3 The corporate role of the members' contribution to the decision making process, is achieved by;

- Participating in the Council's committees whilst acknowledging the principles of democracy and collective responsibility in decision making.
- Understanding and engaging in Overview and Scrutiny.
- Working with officers and other Members to ensure that local needs are understood and accounted for.

Partnership Role

6.4 The partnership role of the members involves working with external organisations, by:

- Representing the Authority on local outside bodies.

- Representing the Authority on local partnership bodies, promoting common interest and co-operation for mutual gain.
- Representing and being an advocate for the Council on national bodies and at national events.

Political Role

6.5 Whilst acknowledging that some members may not necessarily align themselves with a political party it is generally accepted by the public that elected representatives are seen as politicians. Consequently, members need to understand how to work in a political environment by:

- Engaging in cross-party working where necessary for the public good.
- Engaging in responsible leadership or constructive opposition.
- Building an understanding of political working among officers.

7. TOWN AND PARISH COUNCILS

7.1 Central Bedfordshire is fully parished with 71 town and parish councils. The attendance of elected members at meetings of town and parish councils is an essential element of their representational role – listening to and acting as an advocate for their local towns and parishes. This responsibility is increased in a single tier area, since the unitary councillor is the only principal authority member representing the parish.

7.2 The Council considers that attendance at town and parish council meetings is both a significant and vital element of the councillor's workload and whilst some members have only a single town council within their ward, more than half of the Central Bedfordshire councillors, being those representing rural wards, have at least 3 parish councils within their ward and in extreme cases up to 10 parish councils.

7.3 Additionally, in some parts of the Council's area it has been the practice that members would be invited to attend resident associations and community led forums and initiatives.

8. OUTSIDE BODIES AND SCHOOL GOVERNORS

Appointments to Outside Bodies

8.1 The Council appoints approximately 165 elected members as representatives on 85 outside bodies, some members serving on several different bodies. These include national and regional local authority associations; strategic joint partnership bodies covering priorities such as health, housing, sustainable growth, community safety, sport and recreation, transport, accessibility, environmental protection, conservation and flood safety; as well as local voluntary/community groups and grant-making charities.

- 8.2 Appointment to an outside body represents a personal responsibility for the councillor concerned requiring regular attendance at the meetings of the organisation, preparing for meetings and bringing feedback from the organisation back into the Council. In some cases councillors are appointed as trustees or a director which carries a further degree of personal responsibility and accountability.
- 8.3 The Council sees this representation as forming an integral part of both its strategic policy planning and its community engagement agenda. The Monitoring Officer has recently issued advice and guidance to Members on their role on outside bodies and a policy on the Council's engagement with outside bodies is currently in the course of preparation.
- 8.4 On average each member serves on 2½ outside bodies. The Council therefore regards it as critical that there is sufficient capacity for the Council to participate fully in the work of these outside bodies having regard to the wider impact these organisations have on the communities within Central Bedfordshire.

Local Authority School and College Governors

- 8.5 The Council is required by the instruments of government of the 139 nursery, lower, middle and upper schools across Central Bedfordshire to appoint 318 local authority governors to the schools' governing bodies. Nearly half of these positions are taken by elected councillors, the Council have taken the line that each councillor should ideally sit on at least two school governing bodies. The role of a school governor is vital to the governance and improvement of standards in all our schools and the Council expects those appointed to continue to develop our engagement with the communities by making a regular and active contribution to the work of their governing body, contributing towards the Council's strategic priorities to transform teaching and learning and raise achievement for all learners, particularly underachieving groups and children in vulnerable circumstances.
- 8.6 As these bodies will meet at least termly and the majority will appoint sub committees which meet more frequently, the average Central Bedfordshire councillor serving on two governing bodies would need to make time for in the region of 12 meetings a year.

9. THE ROLE OF THE WARD COUNCILLOR

- 9.1 The Council recognises that the role of the non-executive member has changed considerably following the introduction of the executive/scrutiny model for local authorities. However, it welcomes this change which has presented members with the opportunity to develop their role as both community advocates and problem-solvers for their respective neighbourhoods, as well as being community leaders, galvanizing engagement at grass roots level and initiating local action. Councillor Calls for Action, coupled with opportunities for locally-devolved budgets, wider scrutiny powers and more flexible member conduct rules on representing ward interests (most notably in relation to planning and licensing matters) all strengthen councillors' ability to influence policy and decision making by all public sector providers in their locality and to help improve the well-being of their community and locality.

- 9.2 The ward councillor needs to assess the scope for harnessing and sharing local talents and skills from within the town and parish councils, the residents' and tenants' association, the local community and voluntary groups by establishing local networks that can identify and resolve local issues.
- 9.3 We see the ward councillor as a conduit to the Executive and the Overview and Scrutiny committees, bringing the necessary evidence to their attention and affording them the opportunity to take the appropriate action.
- 9.4 The "Joint Proposal for Unitary Local government in Central Bedfordshire" submitted to the Secretary of State, recognised that the development of efficient and effective ward councillors was critical to the Council providing strong, effective and accountable strategic leadership to its communities.
- 9.5 The joint proposal also recognised the need for excellent member support to assist councillors in their ward role. A small Members' services team provides advice and guidance to members and assists with arrangements and publicity for surgeries. Dedicated administrative support is also available to the Executive. IT equipment is provided for Councillors' use at home.

10. MEMBER DEVELOPMENT

- 10.1 It is recognised that no Council can be successful without dedicated and skilled members and officers working in partnership. The Council is committed to providing excellent support, training and briefing for all of the members in order that they can play an active and meaningful part in the work of the Authority. There is a clear correlation between excellent/high performing Councils and well trained/developed members.
- 10.2 Our first Member Development Strategy acknowledges the contribution that elected members can make to create the culture for the new Unitary Council and the achievement of its ambition to become an “Excellent” Authority by 2012.

- 10.3 The Council is striving to be a learning organisation, championing the continuing development of its councillors and staff and will be committing to achieve the Regional Charter for Elected Member Development and the National Investors in People (IIP) Charter Mark at the earliest opportunity.
- 10.4 A joint Member/Officer group called the “Member Development Champions” has undertaken the planning of the Councillor Induction Programme and the on-going Member Development Programme. The Group is cross-party, comprising the Leader, the Deputy Leader, the Corporate Services Portfolio holder together with other senior councillors, as appropriate. Meetings of the group take place every 6 - 8 weeks.
- 10.5 The Council implemented a comprehensive induction programme following the June elections with on average 2 half day events on key topics being held a week.
- 10.6 An on-going Member Development Programme has also been arranged which will begin in the Autumn of 2009.
- 10.7 1:1 sessions are to be held with councillors so that their individual development needs can be assessed and a personal development plan put in place.
- 10.8 Members are also encouraged to pursue personal development opportunities and the Council has worked with the IDeA to organise peer mentoring and attendance by members at the IDeA Leadership Academy.

11. COUNCILLOR WORKLOADS

- 11.1 The change from two-tiers of local government to a unitary authority has significant implications for member workloads, even for experienced councillors. The formation of the unitary authority has brought together the functions of Bedfordshire County Council and the two former districts of Mid and South Bedfordshire. Clearly, members will need to develop their knowledge and skills to incorporate these extended roles. Moreover, it is considered essential that members have a clear understanding of:

- The demographic, economic, political and social profile of the area.
- The Council’s key corporate challenges and values.
- The role and function of key partners.
- Knowledge of the relevant protocols and legislation governing the highest standards of probity in public office and the operations of the Authority.

- The roles of senior officers and operational remit.
- Financial and performance data.

- 11.2 Members' higher profiles within the community will generate significantly greater workloads, particularly through engaging with the electorate. Additionally, their active participation with the town and parish councils, outside bodies, the police and fire authorities and their positions as school governors referred to earlier in our submission is further evidence of the need to ensure that sufficient numbers of Councillors are available to meet the demands placed upon them. Moreover, it is essential that a pragmatic councillor/elector ratio is also achieved.
- 11.3 A recent survey of members has indicated that, although the Authority is less than 6 months old, they spend approximately 9 hours per week on case work and a further 8 hours per week on simply dealing with Council and client case correspondence. The role profile for an "Elected Member" is set out at Appendix C.

12. CONCLUSION

- 12.1 The analysis in respect of Council size has been undertaken with due regard as to what might reasonably be expected of a member elected from any sector of the community.
- 12.2 In addition to the time that members spend on engaging with their constituents (17 hours), an analysis of the figures shown on the political management structure table indicates that on average a Central Bedfordshire member will attend up to one formal Committee meeting per week. The majority of meetings can involve an attendance of up to two hours, plus a similar amount of time or more for preparation. The above figure represents just the formal governance structure. In addition to the standing committees and sub-committees there are a myriad of task and finish groups, Panels, working groups, site visits, briefings and meetings with officers. Moreover, given the geography of the area some members can add a further hour's travelling time for each meeting they attend.
- 12.3 External representation on outside bodies (average two and a half bodies per member) together with attendance at school governor meetings (average two per member) would account for a further 2 hours per week. Also a further nine members, as representatives on the police and fire authorities, will attend up to at least 6 programmed meetings per year on each respective authority. Additionally, both of the respective authorities have a considerable number of committees and the Council's representatives are required to serve on at least two decision making committees which increases the time commitment to approximately 40 days per year.

- 12.4 Member development activities are estimated to be at least 2 hours per week with a further 2 hours per week being taken up on attendance at town and parish meetings or community based forums.
- 12.5 Collectively therefore, all of the aforementioned council/community activities amount to some 27 hours (not including travelling time) on average per week for each member. This is higher than national average of 22 hours per week but commensurate with the national average for a metropolitan council as shown in the 2008 National Census. This commitment further supports the proposal for a Council of 66 members and will ensure that the community is provided with the correct level of political representation.
- 12.6 The recommended number of councillors for Central Bedfordshire is therefore determined as 66 which would give a ratio of 1: 2923 on the current electorate of 192,915 and a ratio of 1: 3,151 on a forecast electorate of 207,986 by 2014.
- 12.7 It is acknowledged that there is no prescribed electoral ratio in an electoral review; however, the table below shows the comparators within our Audit Commission family group and immediate neighbouring authorities which does indicate some similar ratios.

Council	Number of Councillors	2009 Electorate	Electors per Member
Bedford Borough	36 + Mayor	115,000	3194
Bury	51	141,378	2772
Kirklees	69	302,017	4377

South Gloucestershire	70	200,000	2857
Stockport	63	217,709	3455
Swindon	59	153,009	2593
Telford & Wrekin	54	121,221	2244
Thurrock	49	112,000	2285

Trafford	63	167,427	2657
Warrington	57	147,000	2578
West Berkshire	52	116,195	2234
York	47	150,928	3211

- 12.8 Central Bedfordshire aims to become an excellent authority, to deliver high quality democratically driven services and to provide strong, effective and accountable community leadership with an enhanced role for ward councillors. It is against this background that this submission is made. The Council currently has 66 members. The electoral review has allowed us to test whether that number is both appropriate for the new governance structure we now have in place and will provide the capacity to deliver the community leadership role to which we aspire. We have concluded that a Council of 66 will sustain effective governance and decision-making, will provide Executive members with the capacity they need to concentrate on their strategic and leadership roles, will allow all ward councillors to be engaged in policy development, review and scrutiny through overview and scrutiny and will provide capacity for ward councillors to effectively carry out their role as representatives of, and advocates for, their local communities. The Council commends its recommendation to the Boundary Committee.
